

ICMRM in the 2010'sS. L. Codd¹¹Montana State University, Bozeman, USA

We'll start the 2010's off in 2009 with a trip down memory lane to geysers, moose, and a wonderful week of science on the edge of Yellowstone Park in Montana, USA. We gathered throughout this decade as a community in Beijing, Cambridge (UK), Munich, Halifax and Paris. The 2010's were a time of loss for our community with the passing of Sir Paul Callaghan, but also a time of great advances by the young investigators in our community. We honored his leadership by giving his name to the Young Investigator sessions. This decade will be covered by revisiting the some of the Young Investigators you heard from at those meetings from the Montana State University lab and collaborators and by remembering the places in which we gathered, and those we gathered with.
